

APA Style Guide

Based on the latest published edition:
(7th Edition, 2020)
Documenting Your Sources

This guide illustrates the APA style documentation format for sources frequently used by students.
You must adhere to the format and punctuation as shown.

Citations and references are used for two reasons: (1) to inform your teacher about the resources you used to write your essay/report/project, and (2) to acknowledge those sources and to differentiate between your thoughts and/or opinions and the facts that you found in your research. Failing to cite your sources is a form of academic dishonesty known as plagiarism. Plagiarism, whether intentional or not, is the theft of someone else's words or ideas and can result in academic consequences.

You should use citations:

- ✓ If you are stating facts or statistics, for example:
The population of Hamilton is 767,000 (Macrotrends, 2020).
“Climate change - and its social, economical and political impacts on people in Canada and around the world - is one of the most pressing issues facing government” (Otto, 2019, p. A10).
- ✓ If you are providing someone else's opinion, for example:
“Chimpanzees are smarter than gorillas” (Davis, 2011, p. 258).
The NDP is more environmentally conscientious than the Conservative Party of Canada (Mitchell, 2000).

You do not need to use citations:

- ✓ If you are giving your own opinion or stating common knowledge, for example:
The earth is round.
H<sub>2</sub>O is water.
Humanity will realize the importance of the environment and change their ways.

General Formatting Guidelines for an APA Style Assignment

Margins - A uniform 1 inch (2.54 cm) at the top, bottom, left, and right.

Fonts - The preferred fonts are Calibri 11, Arial 11, or Times New Roman 12.

Line spacing - Double-space between all text lines. Double-space after every line in the title, headings, quotations, and the citations on the References page. Single-spacing is allowed in table and figures.

Title of Research Assignment in Title Case

Your research assignment or paper would begin with an introduction of your topic and continue until the conclusion. The last page of an APA style assignment is always the references page, on its' own page. The last page of this guide will show you what a proper reference page looks like.

Using Headings in an APA Essay

APA style assignments allow for the use of up to five levels of headings. The Assignment title is always written in Title Case, centered, and bolded on page 2. The essay title is considered a level one heading. This paragraph started with a level 2 heading. Level 2 headings are aligned on the left margin, bolded, and written in Title Case. Refer to Table 1 to see how other heading levels should be formatted.

Continue writing your assignment and remember that in-text citations should match with the citations that will be on the References page which is always the last page of an APA style assignment.

Need Help Understanding APA?

If you need help understanding this guide or you cannot find an example that fits the reference you are attempting to cite, please contact your secondary school librarian for further assistance.

A note on sentence case & Title Case:

(6.17)

Sentence case means that most of the words are typed in lowercase letters. Title Case means capitalizing the first letter of each word in a title. In APA style, any word that is less than three letters but not a noun and does not start the title or subtitle is not capitalized, you will see examples of Title Case elements throughout this guide. These are words that are not capitalized if they are inside a title: a, an, and, as, at, but, by, for, if, in, nor, of, off, on, or, per, so, the, to, up, via, yet.

When to use sentence case:

In sentence case, only the first letter of a new sentence and proper nouns are capitalized. Sentence case is also used in the reference list of your assignment even when the original sources use Title Case. You will see examples of sentence case elements throughout this guide.

When to use Title Case:

Use Title Case for title of articles, books, reports, and other works appearing in the text of your assignment. The Title of the Assignment; all the Heading; all the Table and Figure Titles; and the Titles of Journals, Magazines, Newspapers, and Websites Names are typed in Title Case and sometimes italicized.

Table 2

Format for the Five Levels of Heading and Paragraph Starts in APA

(2.27, Table 2.3, Figure 2.5)

Level 1	Assignment Title is in Title Case, Centered, and Bolded Assignment text begins on a new line, with a new paragraph tab
Level 2	On Left Margin, Title Case and Bolded Text begins on a new line, with a new paragraph tab
Level 3	On Left Margin, Title Case, Bolded, and Italicized Text begins on a new line, with a new paragraph tab
Level 4	Indented, Title Case, Bolded, and Ends With a Period. Text begins on the same line as the heading and continues as a regular paragraph
Level 5	Indented, Title Case, Bolded, Italicized, and Ends With a Period. Text begins on the same line as the heading and continues as a regular paragraph

Acceptable Abbreviations and Reference Filing Order

(6.24-6.31, 9.49, 9.50)

ed. – edition	Ed. – Editor	Vol. – Volume
Rev. ed. – Revised edition	Eds. – Editors	Vols. – Volumes
2nd ed. – second edition	Trans. – Translation	No. – Number
3rd ed. – third edition (4th, 5th, 6th, etc.)	Suppl. – Supplement	para. – paragraph
	n.d. – no date	p. – page pp. – pages
Months of the year are not abbreviated - they must be written out in full.
Alphabetize numbers as though they are spelled out when ordering reference citations - 100 would file under o for one hundred.
Ignore the words a, an, and the at the beginning of titles and file by the next word - A Catholic handbook would file under c starting at Catholic.

Victorian Morality in Nineteenth Century Canada

1. According to authors such as Bliss (2014), McLaren (2018) and Ward (2015), morality was a subject that seemed to plague the Victorian Canadian.

...the context being an act performed by a married couple for the purpose of producing offspring. Anything outside of this definition was deemed to be an “evil to be shunned with consequences to be dreaded” (Bliss, 2014, p. 328). The best starting point...
2. ...back to courtship and its transformation to capitalism. Courtship was once an institution that was dictated by the community. It was highly supervised and regulated:

In nineteenth century Canada, the community would act like a moral policeman defining and enforcing a code of conduct which denied the unmarried privacy and forbade any physical intimacy until they were virtually engaged. Greater mobility brought freedom from parental and community supervision especially in larger cities. (Ward, 2015, pp. 100-101)
3. Thus, until industrial capitalism as a social system arose, courtship was a highly censored community-sponsored operation...

In the book Courtship, Love, and Marriage in Nineteenth English Canada, four stages of courtship are defined. In the first two, a couple generally spent a great deal of time...
4. ...In French Canada, the role of the Church helped to maintain an extremely low rate of out-of-wedlock births, while encouraging high marital birth rates (Nett, 2012, p. 111).
