DO LENT
GENEROUSLY

HELLO
MONDAY

DAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

I can't find my fancy French olive oil. Nothing matters anymore, the world is going dark.

I've lost my huile d'olive.

Quote for the week

"You'll never see the great things ahead of you if you keep looking at the bad things behind you."

GOOD NEWS STORIES

CEMETERY POSTS PERSONAL AD FOR LONELY GOOSE WHOSE MATE DIED—AND THEY FIND A MATCH

A cemetery manager played Valentine's Day matchmaker to a lonely widowed goose whose mate passed away.

Blossom and Bud lived together for years in the pond at Riverside Cemetery in Marshalltown Iowa, but after Bud died last August, it seemed Blossom would spend the best years of her life alone.

General manager Dorie Tammen noticed that Blossom would spend hours staring at herself in the shiny reflections of model tombstones by the cemetery office, and she realized her goose needed company.

Tammen posted a personal ad on Facebook for a "lovely widowed goose" that was "youthful, adventurous, and lively," looking for "a life partner for companionship and occasional shenanigans."

The ad, mostly a joke, worked like a charm, and Tammen received a surprising email from Deb and Randy Hoyt who had a widower goose named Frankie who was in the same sort of heartbroken rut.

The Hoyts told CBS news that when they saw the ad for Blossom they thought "well that'd be great."

The three humans set up a Valentine's Day date for the two geese, and soon enough they were swimming around the pond at Riverside, seemingly content to be together forever.

"They started walking off together and they haven't really left each other's side since," Tammen said of the geese.

Your message...

Prayer

*Saving God,
Your Son, Jesus, showed me with his words and actions what love is all about. It is in Jesus and through Jesus that Your love for me and others was made known. As I continue in my Lenten journey of fasting, praying and being of service to others, help me live the values that come from my faith: values that make me, others, and the whole world more human and compassionate.
Amen.*
