 2. All marks are accurate.
- If you have any concerns, please see your Guidance Counsellor.

Post-Secondary Applications: Transcripts

- Semester 1 Final marks will be transferred next week. This will start to generate offers of admission.
- Be aware that universities do not have to respond to your application until May 29th, so don't panic 😊
- After the May 29th deadline www.ouac.on.ca will show all programs still open at Ontario Universities.
- Feb. 1st – was the deadline to apply to colleges. Programs fill immediately after this date. www.ontariocolleges.ca will show all programs still open after the Feb. 1st deadline.

I haven't been accepted yet...

- Does it matter what happens for the rest of the semester?
 - All offers are conditional and based on final grades.
 - Be aware of the conditions of the offer.
 - They will rescind the offer if you do not meet their conditions (For example a 70% in ENG4U).

I've been accepted

- How do the colleges and universities get my final grades?

- Electronic transfer in mid July
- If you are enrolled in Night school, e-learning, or any form of independent study this year you must bring your final mark to Guidance so that it is entered for the final transfer of grades.

I've been accepted...

- But I'm not ready to go...
- Some universities will offer a deferral however you must accept the offer prior to asking for a deferral. Always check with the university prior to making that final decision.
- If you decide not to accept a college offer of acceptance, you will have to reapply for the next intake. They do not defer offers.

I've been accepted...
